

dollars in services to illegal immigrants have been left to State taxpayers. That is wrong. For the first time this bill will create a $3.5 billion Medicaid fund to assist States with the cost of emergency health care to illegal immigrants.

In tandem with the $500 million appropriated by the House to reimburse States for the cost of incarcerating illegal immigrant felons, this targeted Medicaid fund places Congress at the forefront of dealing with this very important issue of illegal immigration.

Mr. Speaker, we are approaching the time to put partisanship aside. We must unite behind a fundamental desire of families all across this country. We know we must balance the Federal budget. They elected the President and Congress both to accomplish that goal. The President said he was going to do it in 5 years when he ran in 1992, and this Congress, this new majority in the Congress said we would do it. The Balanced Budget Act embodies a number of the President's election promises. Along with that balanced budget, he promised to end welfare as we know it. That is exactly what happens in this bill. He promised a middle-class tax cut when he ran in 1992; that is exactly what we are doing in this bill.

We should come together. This rule will permit us to send a balanced budget to the President for the first time in three decades. I urge my colleagues to support it.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BEILENSEN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am glad my friend has stopped talking so we can come together.

Mr. Speaker, this rule allows for a motion to dispose of the Senate amendment to the budget reconciliation bill, and allows for 1 hour of debate on that motion. The Senate amendment consists of the reconciliation bill we did yesterday minus two items as the gentleman explained that were dropped in the other body yesterday afternoon. It waives all points of order against the motion.

The rule we are considering is a perfectly acceptable rule for an, unfortunately, unacceptable bill. Since the President has already said he will veto this bill, and we think he should, we think we ought to debate it quickly and get it to his desk as quickly as possible.

We do this body no justice by spending hours debating a bill that is sure to be vetoed. We believe we should concentrate our energies on working out a continuing resolution and a reconciliation bill that the President will sign.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this rule.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DREIER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Appleton, WI [Mr. ROTH], my friend.

Mr. ROTH. Mr. Speaker, I just want to make a couple of short observations. Basically, when we hear debate that has been going on, not only this past couple of hours, but also yesterday and for the last number of days, it is basically the debate on this side of the aisle. As I see it, it is the debate about the old paradigm, the old liberal welfare state. If my colleagues analyze the debate basically coming from this side of the aisle, it is in the paradigm is that we are moving into an opportunity society.

Basically, what we are saying when we analyze it, is that the liberal welfare State is dead, that more and more government, more and more regulations are not the answer. What we are looking for in our society is that we are looking for less government, less regulation. Why? Because the jobs that are coming are not going to be produced by Government. The jobs that are coming are jobs that are being produced by entrepreneurs, and entrepreneurs cannot have a lot of regulation.

The world is moving ahead too fast. We have got to have less government so that the private sector can move and create the jobs that are needed today. So basically what we are debating here is really a very philosophical issue of where the country and where the world is heading.

We are saying basically that the liberal welfare state is dead and that it is being replaced by the Information Act, what we call the opportunity society.

That is why it is difficult to get these groups basically to see eye to eye. But the American people instinctively know that we cannot continue the liberal welfare state. That is basically why everyone is so much in favor of a balanced budget. It is not only the dollars that are involved, but it is the direction that our country is going in.

When we have our town hall meetings, people are always talking about let us balance the budget. Let us do what the American people are demanding. The American people are demanding a balanced budget. Basically what the American people really are saying is that our Government has gotten too big and our government costs too much.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore [Mr. EMERSON] at 1 o'clock and 29 minutes p.m.

CONFERENCE REPORT ON S. 440, NATIONAL HIGHWAY SYSTEM DESIGNATION ACT OF 1995

Mr. SHUSTER. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of both the majority and the minority, I ask unanimous consent that the conference report to accompany the Senate bill (S. 440) to amend title 23, United States Code, to provide for the designation of the National Highway System, and for other purposes, be considered as agreed to.

The Clerk read the title of the Senate bill.

(For conference report and statement, see proceedings of the House of November 15, 1995, at page H12459.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

Mr. OBERSTAR. Reserving the right to object, Mr. Speaker, I do not object to the gentleman's request.

Mr. Speaker, I first want to take this opportunity to thank all of the conferees, particularly my good friend from Pennsylvania, Chairman SHUSTER, my distinguished colleague and friend from West Virginia, Mr. RAHALL, and the gentleman from Wisconsin, Mr. PETRI, and all of our committee members for their long, hard work on this important legislation. All have worked hard to make the necessary compromises to move this critical legislation forward on a bipartisan basis. The result of all of our efforts is a better conference report.

Mr. Speaker, most importantly, the conference report that we consider today designates the National Highway System, or NHS. The NHS is the backbone of our Nation's transportation system. It consists of 161,000 miles of Interstate highways and other heavily traveled roads. Although the NHS comprises only four percent of our Nation's total highway mileage, 9 out of 10 Americans live within 5 miles of an NHS road and it carries 40 percent of all highway travel and 75 percent of all trucking commerce.

With passage of this conference report and designation of the NHS, $5.4 billion of critical transportation funds will now be released to the States. In the next fiscal year, an additional $6.5 billion of NHS funds will be distributed nationwide. At a time when our infrastructure is crumbling, this legislation provides critical funds for badly needed transportation projects.

Mr. Speaker, the conference report also includes several other important changes to the landmark Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act and other transportation laws. It provides additional funding through rescissions to address the section 1003 budget problem,
